About Project Assistance: Professional Arts Festivals

Project Assistance: Professional Arts Festivals supports eligible organizations and arts or curatorial collectives in the development, enrichment, and creation of new or unique public programming through a specific project, component, or programming initiative within an existing festival.

A festival is an event of two or more consecutive days that includes related arts and cultural activities and programming. Grants received through this program are intended to encourage specific art forms or practices, increase the availability of arts in the community, and support the artistic programming of festivals.

Grants are not available through this program to support a festival in its entirety, or festivals being offered for the first time, or single-day festivals. These activities may be supported through other Project Assistance grant programs.

Community arts organizations, for example, community arts councils, are not eligible for this program. Community arts organizations that produce festivals should apply to the Project Assistance: Community Arts Festivals program.

Examples of Eligible Projects

You are encouraged to discuss the eligibility of your project with a Program Advisor before applying. Applications for projects that do not meet the eligibility criteria in these guidelines will not be forwarded for assessment.

BC Arts Council project assistance grant programs provide one-time grants for specific projects. Project grants are not meant to cover operating or ongoing expenses.

Applications requesting funds for a specific project within a festival should clearly describe the project and discuss how the project fits within the overall festival.

Applications requesting funds for a specific programming expense or component should clearly describe the importance or relevance of that component to the overall festival and describe in detail how it fits within the overall context of the festival.

For all applications: Project budgets should only include expenses and revenues related to the specific project, component, or programming initiative identified within the written application.

Applications requesting funds for a specific expense or component can include other directly related amounts in the project budget. For example, a request for artist fees should also include any related travel, accommodations, protocols, hospitality, or accessibility expenses.

Please submit a budget which reflects only the specific project or component being applied for. Do not submit a budget for the festival in its entirety. See specific instructions in What is Needed for the Application section below.

Examples of a specific project include but are not limited to:

- A visual arts exhibition within a multidisciplinary festival.
- A specific screening series with B.C. filmmakers within a Media Arts festival.
- A series of writing workshops for emerging novelists within a larger literary festival.
- A showcase for young audiences within a music festival.

Examples of a specific component include but are not limited to:

- Artist fees for performing and contributing artists as a component of overall festival expenses.
- Expenses related to accessibility and accessible programming.
- Fees for Elders and Knowledge Keepers.

Examples of activities that are not eligible for support include:

- Festivals in their entirety.
- Festivals being offered for the first time, and single-day festivals (these activities may be supported through discipline-specific project grant programs).
- General operating expenses and activities, ongoing expenses, or annual suites of programming.
- General marketing expenses as a primary focus of activities.
- Equipment and capital asset purchases or maintenance expenses.
- Projects or activities that do not involve or benefit artists or arts and culture practitioners.
- Projects or activities that do not have a clearly defined arts and culture focus.

Required artist compensation within project activities

Eligible projects must include appropriate payment to the artists, arts and cultural practitioners, and other members of the project team engaged in the proposed activities. At a minimum, payments to artists should be at the recommended rates set by the relevant arts service organization, professional association, or established practitioners within the field of practice. Payment structures that are not guaranteed, or that risk low or non-payment to artists do not meet this compensation requirement (for example, commission-based sales of artworks, percentage of door sales).

Applicants can determine compensation to Elders and Knowledge Keepers according to community context and appropriate protocols. Applicants should describe the approach used to determine the fair rate in their application.

RESOURCE: The First Peoples' Culture Council Working with Elders document was developed as a free resource to support anyone interested in engaging with Elders and Knowledge Keepers.

Exclusions - What Will Not Be FundedGrants are not available to support:

- Project deficits, budget deficits or contingency funds.
- Capital expenses (for example, construction, renovation, or purchase of property or equipment).
- Feasibility studies, start-up costs, or seed money.

- Projects or activities that are not based upon artistic or curatorial decision making, or where arts and culture is not the primary focus.
- Activities that require payment from artists to participate; fundraising activities; conferences and conventions; family, religious, anniversary, or community celebrations.
- Contests and competitions, except if competition is integral to the art form or cultural practice, for example: hip-hop and street dance, poetry slams, powwows.
- Podcasts and radio programming that are not embedded within established artistic practice or specifically dedicated to the dissemination of artistic works.
- Subsistence (living costs) paid to artists or arts and cultural practitioners.
- Costs of producing commercial recordings or demo reels.

Assessment Criteria – How Decisions Are Made

The assessment criteria are the primary lens through which the assessment panel will review and score your application.

The Extending Foundations: Action Plan for 2022-2024 includes the BC Arts Council's commitment to placing reconciliation, equity, diversity, inclusion, and access at the centre of its activities with the intention to address historic funding inequities. Equity considerations are embedded throughout the assessment criteria and the assessment process.

Keep these criteria in mind as you complete your application. Some of the specific points listed below may not apply to your project. However, your application should clearly explain how the proposed project generally addresses each area of assessment.

Your application will be evaluated by a peer assessment panel based on the following criteria:
